NCEA Internal Assessment Calendar 2010

Notes:

- The weeks listed are guidelines only – it could well be that the teaching programme has to be altered and thus the dates may be changed – any changes should be indicated in writing to students and the school's weekly bulletin updated
- As a rule subjects which are mainly exam-based should not have internal assessment in Term Four; Internally-assessed subjects should a minimum of assessment in Term Four
- Many of the assignments in some subjects are long term, and the date given is the deadline date. Students are encouraged not to leave such assignments to the last minute
- Many assessments take place during class time and are a natural progression from the teaching – students are not expected to do extra work beyond the normal class period/homework
- Details about absences, extension to deadlines, further assessment opportunities and the Derived grade process are given in the booklet Assessment Manual for Students and Parents which can be found on our website www.scotscollege.school.nz
